CHERRY PECTORAL

For the Cure of

COUGHS, COLDS, HOARSENESS, BRONCHITIS, WHOOPING-COUGH, CROUP, ASTHMA, AND CONSUMPTION.

This invaluable remedy for all diseases of the throat and lungs, has obtained a celebrity from its notable cures, never equalled by any other medicine. Other compositions have proved therapeutically, and sometimes effected notable cures; but none has ever so fully won the confidence of the community where it is known. After years of trial, in every climate, the results have indisputably established its mastery over this dangerous disease, which could not fail to attract the attention of Parsimonious Patients and the public generally.

Its ingredients, not of obscure individuals, and of questionable repute, but of men who are known and honored throughout the country.

Middle-aged Gentleman, Dent. VALENTINE, of New York City, says:

It gives me pleasure to certify the virtue and efficacy of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, which I consider especially adapted to cure diseases of the thoroughfare.

REV. JOSEPH PERKINS, the venerable President of the Western Medical College, one of the eminently learned men of this country, writes: "Your Cherry Pectoral is extensively used in this section, where it has ample opportunity of witnessing its happy effects. I have no hesitation in recommending it to the public as a valuable remedy."

REV. JNO. D. COGHRANE, A distinguished clergyman of the Episcopalian Church, writes from Pittsfield, Vermont, that he has been cured of a severe bronchial affection, by Cherry Pectoral. His cure, at full length, may be found in our circulars, to be had of the Agent, and is worth the attention of every sufferer.

Testimonials from the well known Druggist at Detroit, Michigan, one of the largest dealers in the west, all to the same effect, may be seen by the public.

Hillsboro, Mich., Dec. 10, 1849.

Sir, Immediately on receipt of your Cherry Pectoral I carried a bottle to an acquaintance of mine who thought he near his end, with quick consumption. He was then unable to rise from his bed. Said extremely feeble. His friends believed he could not live. I persuaded them to let me try your excellent medicine. He immediately left town for three weeks, and my sign of my surprise on my return, to meet him in the street on my way home from the cars, and hear him exclaim, "I owe my life to you." I stopped immediately taking your medicine, he was at his business in a few days, and has been well ever since. Yours, &c. A. G. ROBERTS.

Cases of other cases within my knowledge, where Cherry Pectoral has been singular successful, but enough at present on this.

Very truly yours, G. W. UNDERWOOD.

Prepared and sold by J. C. AYER, Practical Chemist, Lowell, Mass.

Sold by the Agents in the following places: Bangor, S. L. INGRAHAM, GEORGE W. EMERSON, J. G. GUILD, and G. W. HOLDEN; Hampden, Gilmore & Co; Belfast, Wm. O. Poor; Ellsworth, H. Hinckley, and by the Druggists generally throughout the country. feb 21—1m&w3w

BEWARE OF IMPOSITION!

The Only Genuine and Original

NORTH AMERICAN ELECTRIC WASHING FLUID,

For Washing in either Hard or Soft Water.

This is the only genuine article to be found in the world and possesses double the power of any ever discovered, for washing clothes at a trifling expense, down, away with washboards and washing machines. In fact it seems to be the long sought philosopher's stone, or universal solvent; creating a total revolution in the operation of washing, in its character. A common sized washing may be done with one gill of the Fluid, in less than two hours. It softens and removes the dirt, leaving the articles of the most brilliant whiteness; it is as harmless in its operations as pure water, and clothing will wear much longer than when rubbed upon by the common method of washing.

This Fluid is a powerful agent, to be used in all cases where strength is required, particularly for cleaning milk utensils, cleaning windows and paint, stone floors, in short, it is beyond a precedent, the universal in the washing world.

N.B.—All Colored Goods are rendered brighter and washed in this Fluid: all Woolens are less liable to shrink, and thereby rendered much softer than the old way of washing.

The genuine article the Labels contain the signature of the inventor, J. EMERSON.

The above article is warranted by the Manufacturer to contain soda, lime, camphene, burnt alcohol or acids of any kind, but to be purely an aqueous preparation of the most powerful character, destroying more than double the washing power of any other discovered, being perfectly harmless to the vapor, without possessing the caustic properties of the miserable articles which flood the market, and in many instances disgust the people with the idea that they are unwilling to try a good article, when it really is to be found. The proprietors only ask a fair trial of this article, and are perfectly willing to forfeit any amount for a single instance where it has failed.

PATENTS.

American and Foreign Office.

AGENCY FOR BUSINESS WITH U. S. PATENT OFFICE, WASHINGTON.

No. 22 State Street, Boston.

IN 1840 the subscriber was appointed by the Commissioner of Patents, Agent of the U. S. Patent Office, in accordance with the 10th Sec. of Act of '37.

Having relinquished the Agency for the transmission of Models, and adopted a more expeditious mode of sending them to the Patent Office, which by a Patent may be procured about six weeks earlier, he continues to forward them free of expense—to prepare Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all the necessary Papers and Drawings for Patents; and to render advice on legal and scientific matters respecting the same. Patents secured in Europe and other countries.

His application at this office, inventors are saved the time and expense of a journey to Washington and delay there, as well as all personal trouble in obtaining their patents. They also have the advantage of personally explaining their inventions, and of consulting in respect to them, matters, in general of paramount importance in order to obtain correct examinations and claims. The experience of sixteen year's practice, an extensive collection of future works, decisions, &c. on mechanical subjects, the Patent Laws, and patents of different countries, collected at much expense during the long time this office has been established, together with accounts here kept of inventions patented at Washington, enable the subscriber to afford to inventors advantages of procuring Patents, assistance and information in which in other respects might be difficult of attainment.

R. H. EDDY, Solicitor of Patents.

WASHINGTON, JULY 21, 1849.—During the time I occupied the Office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. EDDY, Esq. of Boston, did business at the Patent Office as Solicitor for procuring Patents. There were few, if any, persons acting in that capacity, who had so much business before the Patent Office; and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity and success. I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the best informed and most skillful Patent Solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office. foot. Is it not possible, in the revolutions to which empires are doomed,—that the discovery may be made even in England, that all men are born free, and have certain inalienable rights, subversive of the usurpations of one part of inhabitants over the other? I remember of holding a conversation with a human being bailing mud at the bottom of a ditch, who descanted most eloquently upon the condition of the lower classes! So every one looks down to a grade of intelligence below himself, and each one contemplates his own shadow as that of a privileged being.

The next morning, May 27th, the Morning News, and perhaps other papers, vented its spleen particularly against the United States, by provoking inuendos. Should some of the rat traps from America, as some one impudently christens the display, happen to command a medal, our traducers will feel cheaper than when the shilling rabble remained quietly at home. More Annexation.

Every few weeks some new scheme of annexation is heralded—some new project for the glorious acquisition of new territory somewhere, by which the limits of our now almost boundless domain may become still more widely extended. Texas and nearly half of the Mexican Republic have failed to satisfy the cravings of many of our countrymen, who seem insensible to the evils attendant upon extensive territorial acquisitions. St Domingo and Cuba are wanted in the South for sugar plantations; the Canadas in the North for summer excursions; and they are not enough; we must have the Sandwich Islands for a half-way station for the China trade. As these islands are equidistant between our Pacific territory and Western Asia, they would be convenient and important as stations for the steamships that are hereafter to navigate the broad bosom of the Pacific. They have long been stopping places for our whale ships, and for years have had many American residents. These islands are valuable, no doubt. They have a climate almost unequaled for its salubrity, an atmosphere as pure, and scenery as enchanting as the vales of Tempe, or Cashmere could ever boast. Situated just within the northern tropic, their productions are most abundant and varied. Many strong reasons could be adduced in favor of the annexation of the Sandwich Islands to the United States, and not a few against the measure. After adverting to the advantages of such a step to the United States, the Boston Journal thus points to the other side of the question:

There is per contra, however, which it would be well for the ardent friends of annexation, (of whom there are not a few in California) to take into account. Two or three important arguments against annexation may be thus briefly stated. Such a step would be likely to involve us in difficulties with England and France, both of which countries are directly interested in the independence of the Sandwich Islands. It would cause trouble in the United States, as the rabid abolitionists would insist on Wilmot proviscing the islands, notwithstanding slavery is unknown there. The islands, owing to their great distance from the United States, would be difficult to govern, and never could be properly represented at the Capital. A little reflection on the part of the annexationists would suggest other arguments against annexation. We throw out these hints by way of caution to those who, looking merely to the advantages of the acquisition of the Sandwich Islands, are likely to favor the movements which are undoubtedly now on foot to effect that object.—With regard to these movements, we find the following in the New York Journal of Commerce:

"Some documents of considerable importance on this subject, have lately been sent to the government at Washington, consisting of representations of American merchants and shipmasters. We have learned from good authority, that the Sandwich Islanders—the people and their authorities—are very desirous of placing themselves under the protection of the Government of the United States.

The subject, in all its relations, should command the attention of our government; for these interests are of great importance to our commerce—to our whaling fleet, which must go there—and to our steamers, which are to traverse the Pacific between California and the East Indies.

As a proof of that our merchants and navigators are earnestly looking towards a steam communication with India, it may be mentioned that, in Boston, a propeller is building to go to China, and that a large steamer is already building in this city to run from San Francisco to China."

No. 4's MAST AND FLAG STAFF.

Engine Company Volunteer, No. 4, lately took it into their heads to have their flag wave very high—to run up the loftiest staff in Bangor, if not in Maine. So the enterprising boys went ahead to carry out their project with zeal and bravery. The tree (a graceful pine from up up river forest) from which the mast was dressed, measured, as it was run to market, 105 feet in length, and only 21 inches in diameter at the stump. It was furnished by Fuller and Remnick, and dressed by Master Snow of Brewer. The very difficult and dangerous task of raising the pole was accomplished yesterday, by Z. M. Heath, assisted by T. Kent and G. Knights. The flag will wave from this mast, and topmast 135 feet from the ground.

A splendid Chandelier has been furnished the Company for their Hall, by Mr. John Mullay.

☞ We learn from the Mercury that one of the keepers of the late Rippogenus Saloon, was arrested at Buckspoft on Tuesday, for selling liquor from a boat. As soon as it was known what was going on he was closely pursued and overtaken, his liquors seized and destroyed by due process of law and himself convicted of selling, fined $20, and in default committed to Ellsworth Jail.

☞ Mr. Edward Riddle, the American Commissioner to the World's Fair, is at the American House, Boston, where he will remain till Friday next, for the purpose of giving information to present and intended contributors to the Exhibition. The Royal Commissioners have offered to receive goods from the United States till the 10th of August, and the proprietors of the Collins's line of Steamships have generously offered to transport all goods intended for the Exhibition free of charge.

Summer.

Nature is again in her glory. June is scattering around us a rich profusion of blooming verdure. The fields, the sloping hills, the waving forests, are arrayed in robes of vernal green, variegated with many a brilliant flower. How sweetly the birds sing in the hedges, and among the branches of the trees! How gayly the boughs are tossed by the breeze, and how the green leaves seem to exult in the glad sunshine!

Every season is welcome and pleasant—each has a smile or a gift for us. The frosty atmosphere and brilliant starlight of a winter's night are cheerfully welcomed; so is the Spring time, and the glorious harvest. The refreshing showers and the reviving sunshine of Summer meet with as ready a welcome. The magnificent scenery of nature calls into action the external senses. Sweetness of sound and beauty of prospect invite us to look and to hear. Why should we not listen? Listen then, and perceive how the world is alive, what multitude of language, what a commingling of strains in nature's music! "At early dawn," at sunrise—when the day declines in the western heaven, when night has wrapt the earth in shadow, the spirit of the seasons is on the wing. She watches over the earth and its inhabitants, with an eye to the needs of every time.

The floral magnificence that is now everywhere displayed, the fragrant air and the glowing sky make us cheerful and hopeful.

Admirers of rural scenery, bright and beautiful as June can make it, can well join with Coleridge in his "Hymn to the Earth."

"Gushing, rejoicing Earth, O say, great Mother will God dead?
Was it indeed well with thee then, when first thy lap was thronged?
Thy lap to the gainful Heaven, the day that he wooed thee and won thee?
Bah was thy blush, the tallest and first of the blushes of morning
Deep was the shudder, O Earth, the throe of thy self-retention,
Deep thy throe at birth, and didst seek thyself in thy offspring,
Mightier far was the joy of thy sudden resilience and forth-swell—
Myriad myriads of lives trembled forth from the mighty embracement.
Thousands fold of beds of dwellers, impelled by thousand-fold instincts,
Filled as a dream the wide waters, the rivers sung on their channels;
Laughed on their shores the hoarse sea, the yearning one heaved upward;
Young life howled through the meadows, the woods, and the refreshing mountains,
Wandered bleating in valleys, and warbled in blossoming branches."

☞ A grisly bear, or wild hog, with tusks that would do credit to an elephant, was shot near Blue Hill, in Strafford N. H., a few days since. A small army of hunters from the country round went in search of him and his comrades, who had been committing great depredations in their fields. The dogs chased him, but he leapfed over precipices as easily and as swiftly as an antelope, where they could not follow. A rifle, however, brought him down. He weighed 100 pounds, and the lads and lassies in the neighborhood had a great feast out of him.

☞ The corner stone of the addition to the capitol at Washington, is to be laid on the 4th of July, by President Fillmore. Mr Webster has consented to deliver the address on the occasion.

LET US KNOW MR WEBSTER. The following is Mr. Webster's reply to the letter of the young men of Lowell, inviting him to visit that city, at his convenience:—

WASHINGTON, June 19, 1851.

GENTLEMEN:—Few things of the kind could give me more real pleasure than the receipt of your letter. I thank you for my own account; and I thank you, if I may venture to say, in behalf of the good men of the country, for the warm interest which you take in support of the Constitution and the Union. These high concerns must very shortly devolve upon those who are now the young men of the country; and there could be no better omen of their continuance and maintenance, than that those young men are found, to a very great extent, resolved, with firmness and vigor, to uphold the glorious institutions of their ancestors.

I do not expect, gentlemen, to be in Massachusetts for any considerable number of days, until the end of next month. You may rest assured, however, that when I shall be at home long enough to have a day for that purpose, I shall not fail to comply with your kind and friendly invitation.

Yours, with true regard,
DANIEL WEBSTER.

To Messrs. James P. Walker, Horatio Towne, B. H. Stone, J. P. Huggins, and others.

To the Editor of the Whig and Courier.

SIR: It would seem from the advertisements and laudatory extracts of itinerant physicians contained in your paper, that the people of Bangor were highly favored with the means of acquiring and preserving health.—Indeed, one might suppose from the modest pretensions that embellish your pages, that the great Tyrant himself would be at a loss in what manner to secure his usual proportion of victims, and would be inclined to solicitude as he was wont to do on a similar occasion:

"Six thousand years are near-hand fled
Sir I was to the butching bred,
An' many a scheme in vain's been laid,
To stop or scare me:—
Till one Hornbook's ta'en up the trade,
An' faith, he'll waur me!"

Is it not rather strange that men of such medical celebrity should be obliged to travel the country far and wide in order to get employment? In old times a man's own merits, unheralded and untrumpeted, would win him reputation, and wherever he was heated (for it was not then considered respectable to be an itinerant), there he was sought for and found.

The compliments indirectly paid by these itinerants to the skill of the physicians of Bangor, should not, indeed, be overlooked, they are so redolent of the scholar and gentleman. Why, Mr. Editor, I take it upon myself to say that there is not an educated physician in Bangor, whose advantages for acquiring medical knowledge have not been as good (and in most cases vastly better,) as those cracked-up itinerants have enjoyed; and were their every day practice published to the world, it would embrace as many remarkable cures, affected in as rational and scientific a manner, as we see paraded before our eyes in the columns of your imperial paper, and the people of Bangor know full well. YOUNG MEN.

New York Correspondence.

To the Editor of the Whig and Courier:

NEW-YORK, June 21.

Of course the appalling intelligence of the recent disastrous fires in San Francisco and Stockton produced a great sensation in Wall street. We have too much at stake in San Francisco to hear such news with perfect equanimity, but there is no use in crying over spilt milk, or in being "cross" as too many in this neighborhood were at their losses. Quite a number of merchants here were badly "scorched" by the burning of "ventures" which they had sent to San Francisco on consignment.—One house here is very sore over the loss of 10,000 gallons of vinegar, with which, it appears, the consignee flooded his store to prevent it from the conflagration—a bright idea and entirely successful. But, now, the vinegar, if on hand again, would bring a rousing price, being scarce.

It is not unlikely that the California fires will lead to several failures in this city, and will be felt more or less at various other prominent points throughout the United States. "But it is an ill wind that blows nobody any good," and the building mechanics in San Francisco are now earning ten dollars a day. A correspondent of mine, who had been toiling in the mountains of Sierra Nevada for nearly two years past with little success notwithstanding his regular and economical habits, had come down to San Francisco with scarcely enough of the dust to pay his passage home, when the recent great fire came near perishing the little he had, and himself too. But the catastrophy brought his services into great demand. He had been in Boston a master mason, by trade, and Messrs. Adams & Co. enlisted him to superintend the removal of the smoking ruins of their former premises, and act as the daily surveyor of the materials and construction of the extensive and substantial fire proof building, which they have had erected upon the site of their old office. His compensation for this unexpected job (he writes me) will be liberal, and it will probably yield him as much as he would make in a whole year at home.

I saw in Adams & Co's office, to-day, a charming specimen, or "great gob" of gold ore, entirely free from quartz or other alloy, and weighing 37 oz and 10 pwts. Its value is about $700. The California gold dust department in Adams & Co's New York office looks like a banking house.

Argenti, styled in the San Francisco papers the prince of bankers, was very fortunate in saving his building from the flames. It was fire-proof, and rent him a large sum, but not so much but what the rent of it for three years would defray the whole expenditure. That portion of the building not used by himself he rented to others for $4,500 per month! and now he probably obtains double that rent.

Enoch Train, Esq., the owner of the brig ships of Boston, had a quantity of lumber in San Francisco at the time of the fire, previously valueless, but since sold for $70 a thousand, by which he has netted $10,000, and received the first remittance to-day.

I know of a concern in San Francisco who had an immense stock on hand which might have swamped them had it not been for the late fire, but the same catastrophy, which has beggared others has doubled the value of their goods.

Among all the California adventurers, none of them have been more successful and deserving of notice than those which went from New London, New Bedford and Nantucket. The very amiable three pound lamp, before alluded to, was destined for one or the other of the above named places.

I learn, as I write, that the U. States Mail Steamship Cherokee, from New Orleans, Havana and Chagres is just coming up the harbor, having made the voyage from N. Orleans in 8 days.

The summer is upon us now in earnest, and I sympathize for our friends in New Orleans who can't get away. I remember it was so just at this season some years ago that most of the ink on the newspapers would usually transfer itself to the hands of the readers, and on one occasion a gentleman, arrayed for coolness in a jacket and white pantaloons, clancing to sit down upon a copy of the "Bulletin," gently edified the spectators by rising with a fac simile of steamer, vignettes, cotton sale advertisements, &c., &c., upon the seat of his "Bloomers."

A man, named John Scully, took a singular method of suicide yesterday. He went into Hart's, the pawn broker's, and offered to pawn a revolver which the shop keeper had refused to receive of him the day before because it was loaded. He now alleged that it was unloaded, and requested Mr. Hart to test it. As the latter was in the act of pulling the trigger, the man suddenly stepped in front of the pistol, and the ball passed into his breast, causing his instant death. The coroner's verdict was in accordance with the above facts.

Yesterday, Ford & Co.'s immense resin oil factory on Staten Island was destroyed by fire. The large establishment of Michael Riley, Esq., is on the same Island, and in full operation.—He manufactures from rosin the best tanner's and painter's oil, and oil for machinery. It is a novel business and destined to be important. A concern in Brooklyn is manufacturing an oil to burn in solar lamps.

☞ Mr. Harrington, the famous ventriloquist, gave another of his splendid entertainments, at the City Hall, last evening. He appeared as much at home in his business as ever. He understands how to amuse an assembly.

☞ The Referees in the celebrated Fairchild case commenced their hearing, on Monday last, at South Boston.

☞ The trip from New York to Cincinnati is now made in less than two days.

Fire at Belfast.

By an extra from the Belfast Signal, brought by Bryant's Express, we learn that the Foundry Buildings were burned, last night and property to the amount of $25,000 destroyed. The loss falls on industrious mechanics who had no insurance. Henry Ames, Silas M. Fuller, Joseph Dennett, Jr., and Samuel Brewster are among the sufferers. Mercury of Wednesday.

DEAFNESS CURED.

Dr. HAWKES, of the firm of Drs. Hawkes & Turnbull and late practising Surgeon in the Royal Ear Infirmary, London, may be consulted daily (Friday and Saturday excepted) at his residence, York street, near Exchange, on all diseases of the Ear, from 9 till 12, and from 3 till 6. When the ear is perfect in its formation, Deafness can always be cured. A long and extensive practice in one of the best institutions in Europe, and the unprecedented success which has attended his efforts in numerous cases which had baffled all other treatment, is perhaps the best recommendation he can offer to the suffering. Deafness. Early application is necessary, as his engagements in other northern towns will make his stay of limited duration, say between one and two months; and time is of the utmost importance in many of recent cases. Operations give no pain.

No. 40 Main Street.

WE now offer to our customers and the public, our SECOND GREAT STOCK of the season, received direct from New York, all of which will be sold at such prices as will satisfy purchasers. OUR ESTABLISHMENT ranks among the very first in the STATE for Good Bargains and honorable dealing.

Large quantities of our Goods are received direct from IMPORTERS and AGENTS, enabling us to save our customers a handsome profit they would otherwise have to pay on many kinds of Goods; and to offer at all times every possible inducement for the Public to make our Store their GREAT RESORT for all their Dry Goods purchases.

In addition to our stock of Rich Dress Goods, we offer to FAMILIES providing their HOUSEKEEPING ARTICLES, a much greater variety of Table Linens, Bedding, &c., than is usually found in any one establishment.

Our stock of SHAWLS, VISITES and BONNETS is very large.

Our Carpet Rooms

never presented greater attractions for variety of quality, and novelty of style, than at the present season.

IN ADDITION to our large and attractive Retail department, we would call the attention of MERCHANTS OUT OF TOWN to our WHOLESALE ROOMS.

They contain all the Staple and desirable styles of DOMESTIC GOODS of the season.

Without particularizing the names and prices, we will plead ourselves to offer to the Trade our Goods, at the lowest Boston prices, thereby saving the necessity of time and expense incurred in visiting other markets.

ORDERS from out of town receive our prompt and special attention.

IN BOARD OF ALDERMEN,

June 18, 1851.

ON the application of M. Gilligan, Henry F. Skerry, and others, citizens of Bangor, and praying therein, for a drain or Common Sewer to be made in said city, commencing at the southerly line of Nathan Pendleton's lot, on State street, as in said application is set forth:

Ordered, That the Mayor and Aldermen repair to the place designated in said application to examine the same and determine the necessity of said Drain or Common Sewer, on Friday, the twenty seventh day of June, at two o'clock in the afternoon.

Ordered, That in case the Mayor and Aldermen, or a majority of the same who may be present at said meeting, shall judge it expedient that such drain or sewer be made, they will, at the time and place of said meeting, determine upon and allow such sum for damages (if any are claimed, and in their opinion should be allowed) as any claimant may be entitled to, deducting the benefit he may receive. And said Mayor and Aldermen will also, at the time and place aforesaid, estimate what persons or persons, if any, are benefitted by such drain or sewer, and the amount of such benefit; and will ascertain and assess a proportional part of the charge of making, maintaining and repairing such drain or sewer, to any and all persons who may be adjudged by said Mayor and Aldermen to be in any way benefitted thereby.

Ordered, That notice to all persons, through or over whose land said drain or sewer is to be placed, be given by publishing an attested copy of said application, of this and the foregoing orders thereon, one week, in the Bangor Daily Whig and Courier, a newspaper printed in said city, the first publication to be seven days at least before the time of said meeting.
